

The Orthopedic Center of St. Louis

Mark D. Miller, MD, Shoulder and Knee Specialist

14825 N. Outer Forty Road, Suite 200 • Chesterfield, MO 63017 • 314-336-2555

Dr. Mark D. Miller, MD of The Orthopedic Center of St. Louis (TOC) has now appeared in our Best Doctors issue for the third in a row. His reputation as one of St. Louis' premier shoulder and knee specialists continues to grow.

By staying on the forefront of arthroscopic techniques, Dr. Miller's surgeries are minimally invasive, same day procedures that attempt to reduce pain and dysfunction. While Dr. Miller's surgical skills are recognized among the best, most of his patients comment that his abilities to communicate and explain orthopedic problems set him apart from other physicians. "I try to explain the problem in a respectful and informative fashion, discuss the available options, and then my patient and I tailor the treatment to his/her needs and expectations", says Dr. Miller.

Customer service and convenience clearly take a front seat for Dr. Miller. "We have a full service center that encompasses every aspect of orthopedic care. We have a surgery center, MRI, CT scanner, and physical therapy department (ProRehab) all in the same building." With construction and traffic concerns escalating, every effort is made by Dr. Miller's staff to consolidate orthopedic care to one convenient site. "My goal is to exceed your expectations!"

Dr. Miller is one of eight other partners at The Orthopedic Center of St. Louis (TOC). All are fellowship trained orthopedic surgeons whose talents encompass the entire spectrum of orthopedic care.
